PICTURES SHOW SUCCESS OF OSTEND CAMPAIGN

Plates Taken From Airplanes Disclose Much Damage Done to German Base.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, June 8.—A series of photographic plates of the bombardment of Ostend, which have arrived in London, afford a remarkable example of the development of photographic observation and record by airplanes. They show in undeniable fashion that the bombardment of Ostend Tuesday was the most successful thing of its kind yet accomplished, insuring that Ostend will be crippled as a useful German base for weeks, if not permanently.

There are several series of these Ostend plates in the little photographic record room of the admiralty building in Whitehall, and they must be seen together to understand the result of Tuesday night's work. The first group taken before the bombardment shows the town in a panoramic square.

With a small reading glass it is easy even for an untrained eye to distinguish the essential features of docks, factories and harbor works in their normal condition and to trace railroad tracks, streets and store yards.

After the Deluge of Shells.

A second group of plates shows Ostend after the bombardment. At first sight the pictures are disappointing.
Taken from airplanes a mile or more above the town, the pictures show no great general devastation. The work of a hundred or two heavy projectiles, such as used by the British monitors, does not impress itself heavily on a landscape like the work of an earthquake. But when one gets down to careful comparison with the pictures taken before the bombardment there are some striking changes here and there which grow in importance as they are studied under a magnifying glass.

First of all there is the harbor. One is immediately struck by a slight change in the appearance of the great lock gates on which all the activity of the harbor depends. These gates are 100 feet long and twenty feet high, and they seem somehow to have been tilted of their rectilinear character overnight. The magnifying glass reveals some of the reasons for this change.
The breaking down of the locks prevents the retention of water in the basin and the canal which feed it in-capacitating the entire port machinery.
Equally effective in crippling the harbor is a hit on the operating machinery, jamming the locks so that ingress or egress is impossible until elaborate repairs are made.

The plates taken the day before the bombardment show a number of ships at anchor or tied up in the inner basin.
In the succeeding plates some of the ships have disappeared and others are apparently half submerged. The long wharf looks like a caricature of its former self, and two or three buildings
indicated in the early pictures by the presence of new additions or alterations, have suffered badly.

Pictures Confirm Statement.

The pictures confirm the statement in the official communiqué that more than half of the buildings in the factory section of the town have either been destroyed or badly damaged. It is easy to see that there may have been a heavy loss of life, although the residential section was apparently untouched. Some of the ruined factories necessarily operate at night and day, while many men are employed at night on the shipping and docks.

British shells, dropped from a height of miles by the high angle fire of the British monitors, located at a point far below the horizon, frequently fell straight through the roof of shed or factory, blowing out great sections of the sides and roof and hurling a shrapnel-like shower of splintered wood, steel and rock into the adjacent buildings.

AMERICA URGES CHINA TO ELIMINATE DISCORD

Minister Reisch Hands Communication to Foreign Office From This Government.

PEKING, June 8.—Dr. Paul Reisch, the American minister, has handed to the foreign office the following communication from Washington:
"The United States government learns with the most profound regret of the dissensions in China, and expresses a sincere desire that tranquility and political co-ordination be forthwith established.

"The entry of China into the war or the continuance of the status quo in her relations with the German government are matters of secondary importance. China's principal necessity is to resume and continue her political unity and proceed along the road to national development. In China's form of government or the personnel which administers the government America has only the friendliest interest and desire to be of service to China.

"America expresses the sincere hope that factional and political disputes will be set aside and that all parties and persons will work to re-establish and co-ordinate the government and secure China's position among nations, which is impossible while there is internal discord."

Co-Operation Is Pledged.

The co-operation of state railway commissions in maintaining "effective control over operation of railroads to meet military and industrial requirements" is pledged to President Wilson in a resolution adopted here by the executive committee of the National Association of Railway Commissioners.

The President, the interstate commerce commission and the defense council were invited to call upon the association for any active aid it might render.

The Spanish steamer Telefera of 4,145 tons is reported to have been sunk without warning by a submarine. The crew was saved. The home port of the Telefera is Bilbao.

MENNEN'S

Along comes a brand new cigar, or a smoking tobacco, or a cigarette. You can't know how good any of them is unless you try it. There wouldn't be any telephones, nor any telegraph today, if it hadn't been for the flyers of the early days. You can't tell how good Mennen's Shaving Cream is unless you try it, and see how much easier shaving is with it. If you've had trouble with old fashioned shaving soaps invented in the eighteenth century, try Mennen's Shaving Cream. Just try it—that's all.

What Does Economy Mean?

Does economy mean the hoarding of money? Miserliness would paralyze the country's industries.

Does economy mean buying the lowest-priced goods — even if one can afford better? It certainly does not — because the better the quality, the lower the cost when measured by the period of service.

And so, if there ever was a time when quality counted, it is now. If there ever was a time when a man ought to buy the best clothes he can afford that time is now.

You know how much you can spend; we'll give you ample return for your money, whatever that sum may be. But every dollar you put into a suit will repay itself in longer wear.

We have makes of clothes that have stood the test of time—Society Brand and Aristocrat-ic Clothes.

Come in tomorrow and see the new June models in Society Brand Belt-All-Around Suits at $20 and $25—they're just in and all the fellows are wild about them.

At $10--A Wonderfully Good Tropical Suit

Workmanship in accord with Aristocrat-ic quality—models of distinct originality. One in particular is the double-breasted loose better. This model, from the very minute it was shown, was very much admired. An unlimited variety of colors in the fashionable "Kool Kloth" at $10.

A magnificent assemblage of other Tropicals in Mohairs, Palm Beaches, Silks, etc.
